Completion of Rooms at the Holy Spirit Northside November 2002

Dear Doctor

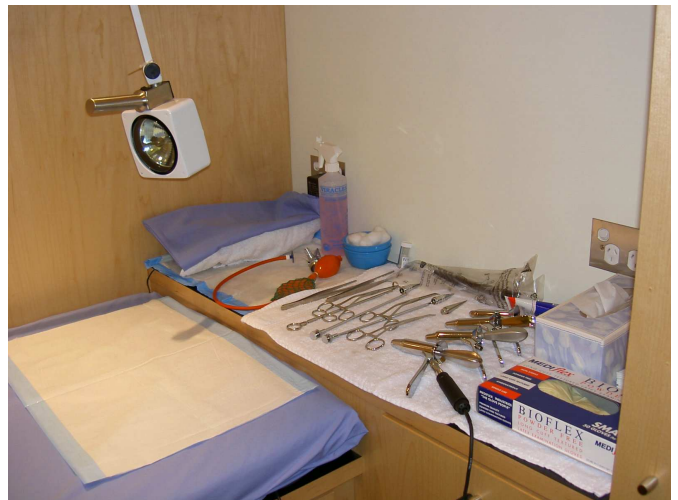

We have now completed the fit-out of my rooms at the Holy Spirit Northside Medical Centre. This new hospital is well equipped with state-of -the-art operating theatres and a patient centred focus. The hospital is expanding and we can offer a multi-disciplinary service for complex gastro-intestinal conditions and cancers.

My training is in Colorectal and General Surgery. I have a public (VMO) appointment at the Royal Brisbane Hospital in the Colorectal Unit and have been taking a great deal of the emergency admissions through the Emergency Centre here at the Holy Spirit Northside. My training was at the Royal Brisbane Hospital and a further 2 ½ years in the United Kingdom in Coloproctology.

The rooms provide a comfortable and non-threatening environment for patients and are well equipped to deal with minor ano-rectal problems. For example, patients with PR bleeding can undergo rigid sigmoidoscopy and banding in one visit, or be triaged to my list at the Holy Spirit Northside Endoscopy Unit for additional investigation, when necessary.

Reception

Procedure area

My interests include:

Minimally invasive surgery

- Laparoscopic colectomies
- Laparoscopic cholecystectomy
- Laparoscopic preperitoneal inguinal hernia surgery

Endoscopy

- Colonoscopy
- Upper GI endoscopy
- Banding of haemorrhoids (performed in the rooms or in the department)

Incontinence surgery

- Sphincter repair
- Resection rectopexy (laparoscopic)

Colorectal carcinomas

From diagnosis to treatment and surveillance

General surgery

The usual gamut of acute conditions

Laparoscopic Anterior Resection

The Stryker Endosuite

Laparoscopic Right Hemicolectomy

Of course I am happy to discuss any patients by phone on 3350 2088.

Yours Sincerely,

David Clark
